

Increase Preventative Care Measures by 50%

Wellbox delivers best-in-class virtual care solutions to high-risk, high-cost populations.

the impact of chronic illness

Chronic illness is one of America's leading drivers of healthcare costs at nearly 90% of the nation's $3.5 trillion in annual healthcare expenditures. It is also the foremost cause of death and disability with 60% of Americans living with one or more chronic conditions. Addressing this high-risk, high-cost patient population can be an incredible challenge.

The increasing adoption of virtual care solutions can help to drive patient engagement while improving clinical outcomes. Wellbox is dedicated to making a profound, positive impact on chronic illness in America by empowering people to engage in their long-term health with virtual care.

wellbox results

3xmore flu vaccines*66%*fewer hospital visits*5.6%*decrease in healthcare costs*80%*engagement rate*43%*conversion rate*90%*satisfaction rate

the process

The Wellbox solution is a unique end-to-end model designed to maximize results with minimal disruption. Wellbox takes a pragmatic approach to managing chronically ill populations, beginning with a population health assessment that identifies all eligible patients for virtual care services.

From this assessment, a recommended approach is determined, and a unique practice workflow is documented. Enrollment campaigns are conducted, and patients are assigned to a team of nurses who perform consistent outreach. This way, they can address any health concerns sooner and intervene before it escalates for emergency care. Additionally, these interactions empower patients to stay compliant to their care plans and health goals, preventing worsened health and higher cost of care.

After these interactions, Wellbox documents them directly into the practice's EHR, allowing providers to view progress and intervene as needed. We also submit all virtual care claims, conduct follow-up and collect co-pays on behalf of the healthcare organization to reimbursing its providers.

This approach, entirely unique to Wellbox, has resulted in significant improvements in clinical and financial outcomes, increased patient compliance, and better performance against important quality measures.

virtual care solutions

principal care management

chronic care management

remote patient monitoring

annual wellness visits

chronic disease management

population health management

outcomes

As a market leader in virtual care, Wellbox has a level of experience that no other provider can offer and the clinical and financial outcomes to prove it. These outcomes include fewer hospitalizations, improved engagement and compliance as well as greater participation in preventative care measures. We are proud of the work we have accomplished so far which includes caring for over 75,000 patients, conducting over 400,000 billable interactions, and working with more than 50 chronic disease states.